COLLAPSE

As the world's population grows, the demand for food and resources increases. This leads to a collapse of the environment, as the land is overused and the resources are depleted.

The collapse of the environment leads to a collapse of the economy, as the resources are no longer available to support the growing population.

The collapse of the economy leads to a collapse of society, as the people are no longer able to support themselves.

The collapse of society leads to a collapse of the world, as the people are no longer able to live together in peace and harmony.

The collapse of the world leads to a collapse of everything, as the world is no longer able to support life.

The collapse of everything leads to a collapse of the universe, as the universe is no longer able to support anything.

The collapse of the universe leads to a collapse of everything, as the universe is no longer able to support anything.
